BHAGWAN KUNTHUNATH ANNUAL AWARDS FOR BEST BOOK AND PAPER ON JAINISM

International School for Jain Studies 'ISJS', a not-for-profit research and education institute to promote academic studies of Jainism globally was founded by Dr. Shugan C Jain (India) and Dr. Sulekh C Jain (USA) in 2005. Since 2020, ISJS has become a division of Amar Prerana Trust, Pune of Dr. Abhay Firodia - who is also Chairman of Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute, Pune.

Since its inception, ISJS had conducted annual residential summer schools in India to provide experiential knowledge of Jainism to overseas scholars. More than 1000 such scholars have attended these programs. To augment these efforts, ISJS also holds international seminars on Jain specific subjects, publish a quarterly Online research journal and books. As a result, Jain studies have started in more than 25 universities globally and the number is growing. For details www.isjs.in

To further encourage scholarship in academic studies of Jainism to be of international standards, ISJS proposes to institute two annual awards as follows :

1. The best book published in english concerning Jain philosophy / culture / history / ethics and their applications in today's world: INR 1,00,000.00 or equivalent US$.
2. The best research paper published in english concerning Jain philosophy / culture / history / ethics and their applications in today's world: INR 25,000.00 or equivalent US$.
